

Gas Alliance Opportunities

(Various Locations)

Join our innovative award winning Alliance team behind the new integrated way of working.

National Grid and our partners are committed to the safe, efficient and sustainable delivery of the gas mains replacement programme. The programme of replacing 2,000km of gas mains every year for at least the next 7 years is delivered through four alliances across the country.

The Alliances are a single delivery team comprising National Grid and supply chain partner personnel, brought together to deliver the capital programme to safety, cost, time and quality requirements in a jointly incentivised arrangement.

Opportunities are available in Operations, Design, Operational Support, Commercial, Performance & Quality and general administration.

Interested?

Whatever the position, you'll be given exciting development opportunities and the chance to work collaboratively with other skilled professionals, to pick up new skills through tailored training and on the job experiences and to work with improved tools and systems.

So, do you have the skills and behaviours that can add value? Want to know more about working in one of these Alliances? Then please contact the relevant Alliance below for more details or alternatively e-mail them your CV.
