

Creyke Beck extension and new substation

Consultation feedback form

June-July 2023

National Grid Electricity Transmission is consulting on proposals to extend the existing 400 kV Creyke Beck substation in Cottingham, north of Hull, and build a new 400 kV substation approximately 700m northwest of the existing substation.

Overview

The way we generate electricity in the UK is changing rapidly, and we are transitioning to cheaper, cleaner and more secure forms of energy like new offshore windfarms. We need to make changes to the network of overhead lines, pylons, cables and other infrastructure that transports electricity around the country, so that everyone has access to the clean electricity from these new renewable sources.

Our proposed substation works are needed to connect new offshore wind and interconnectors to the electricity transmission network in the area and reinforce the local network.

Our proposals are part of The Great Grid Upgrade – the largest overhaul of the grid in generations. The substation works in the Creyke Beck area will support the UK's net zero target.

Your feedback

We are seeking your views on our proposals. Your feedback is important in helping us to develop our proposals and all feedback received will be recorded and considered as we further shape our plans.

You can provide feedback during this consultation by completing this hard copy feedback form or by filling it in online. You are welcome to answer all or only some of the questions in this feedback form, depending on the issues that are most important to you. There is also an opportunity to comment generally on the project and this consultation.

Further information

Further information about our proposals is available on our website nationalgrid.com/creyke-beck. An online version of this form can also be submitted via our website.

Please submit your response to this consultation by 11:59pm on 27 July 2023.

We cannot guarantee that responses received after this time will be considered. To return this feedback form free of charge, please write Freepost CREYKE BECK (no stamp or further address details are required) on an envelope.

Our proposals for the substation works in the Creyke Beck area

This map shows a high-level overview of our proposed substation works for the Creyke Beck area. Find out more by visiting our website or attending our public consultation event. These are indicative proposals and there will be ongoing environmental work to confirm the final design for the new substation.

1. Having reviewed the map and available information on the substation works in the Creyke Beck area, what are your views on the proposed siting of the new substation?

2. Do you have any comments on the proposed new access route directly off the A1079?

3. Do you have any general comments about these aspects at this stage that you would like to make us aware of (for example ecology)?

4. Is there anything we could do to reduce potential effects on the local area?

National Grid Electricity Transmission has a Community Grant Fund available to charitable and non-for-profit organisations to apply for funding for community-based initiatives in locations where our works are taking place. You can read more about that at nationalgrid.com/responsibility/community/community-grant-programme

5. In addition to our Community Grant Fund, are there other ways in which you would wish to see local communities benefit from hosting new electricity transmission infrastructure?
