Dear colleague

Timetable for publication of 2018/19 TNUoS tariffs

This letter concerns the timetable for our forecasts of 2018/19 electricity Transmission Network Use of System (TNUoS) tariffs over the coming year. We have reviewed when the quarterly forecasts are currently published and dates on which we receive key data that can have a material impact on tariffs. As a result we intend to maintain the same publication timetable as for 2017/18 tariff forecasts. We welcome views from customers on preferred dates for our forecasts so that we can look at what changes could be made to the Regulatory Framework which might be needed to facilitate a change to our timetable.

We thus propose to maintain the June forecast which was introduced in 2016/17 and essentially merged the two forecasts that were previously undertaken in April and July.

The resulting timetable for tariff forecasts to be published this year (for 2018/19 tariffs) is set out below. We may vary these dates if unforeseen circumstances require but we will still provide at least four forecasts before the Final tariffs are published in January 2018.

- February 2017: Forecast of 2018/19 to 2021/22 tariffs
- June 2017: Forecast of 2018/19 tariffs
- October 2017: Forecast of 2018/19 tariffs
- December 2017: Forecast of 2018/19 tariffs
- 31 January 2018: Final 2018/19 tariffs

All forecasts will be made available in the TNUoS Tariffs Forecast section of our website:
